Pseudo membranous colitis (PM colitis) was one of such diseases, which predominantly affects patients after surgery of the digestive system. It had a high fatality rate, but there was no known effective treatment. An odd circumstance pushed Betty to perform the world's first demonstrate its effectiveness. However, because of the stigma that attached to feces, fellow to such a degree that she could not remain as a staff nurse. Later academic researchers identified the pathogen of PM colitis as Eventually, the news of effectiveness of fecal transplant spread on the Internet and many patients started doing by themselves of C-diff infection. FDA also renamed the procedure

Betty suffered personal
